

Career Readiness Initiative

How are you addressing your future workforce needs? We're here to help!

There's growing demand for skilled workers in the Twin Cities—and thousands of Minneapolis youth eager to explore great career opportunities!

The AchieveMpls Career Readiness Initiative helps bridge the gap between companies that are looking for their future workforce and Minneapolis high school students who are seeking high-demand, high-wage careers. We recognize the value in every path to personal and economic success, and support each student in pursuing the opportunities that best suit their needs and dreams.

We connect your business with students interested in your industry through school-based career networking events as well as worksite tours at your company.

We link students to new career fields, industries and the best post-secondary training for their career goals—including two and four-year degrees, technical school, certificate programs, apprenticeships and more.
